

Mayor responds to SBC past concerns
page 42

Will the city's wild card play
pay off
page 44

PENTICTON 100 YEARS HERALD

The South Okanagan's Daily Newspaper

Monday, January 8, 2007

Features

- More top stories from 2006
— page 47
- This week's TV listings
— special section
- Cool finds
— page 48

ADVERTISEMENT

Advertising	$1,400
Classified	$1.50
Cartoon	$80
Illustration	$80
Letter	$50
Photo	$40
Obituary	$100
Real Estate	$20
Travel & Auto	$20
Death	$20
Phone	$40

For a complete rate card, visit our website.

MacKay points to progress

■ Canada's foreign affairs minister disputes claims the West's mission is failing to rebuild Afghanistan

OTTAWA (AP) — Afghanistan is on the track to return to a state of peace and stability, says Canada's foreign affairs minister, Stephen Harper. Harper said the West's mission in Afghanistan is making progress.

"We're here to build a new Afghanistan," Harper said. "We're here to build a new Afghanistan, not to build a new Afghanistan." Harper said the West's mission in Afghanistan is making progress.

"We're going to see the results of our mission in Afghanistan," Harper said. "We're going to see the results of our mission in Afghanistan." Harper said the West's mission in Afghanistan is making progress.

© 2007 The Canadian Press

Canadian Foreign Minister Stephen Harper is seen in a meeting with Afghan officials in Kabul, Afghanistan, on Jan. 7, 2007.

Burning up ice

The world's largest ferry manufacturer is set to build a new ship for the West Coast. The ship will be built in Canada and will be used for ferry service between Vancouver and Seattle. The ship will be built in Canada and will be used for ferry service between Vancouver and Seattle.

Victim of brainwashing

... of a religious conversion lawsuit

Danes to pull out of NATO flight training in Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Denmark has decided to pull out of NATO flight training in Canada. The decision was announced by the Danish government on Monday.

©2000 The World Journal of the West

Burning up ice

Pentester's Gary Gregg was studded up and ready to race at the World Ice Racing Series at the Multiplex in Vernon. Close to 30 competitors from B.C., Alberta and the U.S. raced around the course reaching high speeds and entertaining the crowd. Pro bikes and pro quads were the main attraction with 3-wheels getting a chance to trade some paint. Gregg qualified into the main event, finishing seventh.

